

CASE STUDY: CERTIFIED
BIRTH CERTIFICATE
TRANSLATION FOR IMMIGRATION SUBMISSION

CLIENT BACKGROUND

Ms. Aiko S., a Japanese national recently settled in Brisbane, required an English translation of her Japanese birth certificate to complete the family visa application process for her child. The Department of Home Affairs mandated a NAATI-certified translation for official acceptance.

THE CHALLENGE

With strict immigration deadlines approaching, Ms. S. was under pressure to obtain a translation that met all Australian legal and certification standards. She needed a service that was fast, accurate, and compliant with government requirements.

OUR SOLUTION

At AustralianTranslationServices.com.au, we quickly assigned a NAATI-certified Japanese translator with expertise in official document translation services. The birth certificate was translated with precision, formatted to match government guidelines, and included the NAATI stamp, signature, and translator's affidavit. The process was expedited to ensure it met the urgent timeline.

THE RESULT

Ms. S. received her certified English translation within 48 hours. The document was accepted by the immigration authorities without delay, allowing her visa process to continue smoothly and on schedule.

CLIENT TESTIMONIAL

“

The service was incredibly professional and reassuring. They knew exactly what was needed for my immigration paperwork and delivered it perfectly on time. I'm grateful for their support during a stressful time.

— Aiko S.
